QUALITY POLICY

Our aim is to produce reliable and durable products that exceed the expectations of our customers by targeting perfection in our business. For this purpose, we constantly improve our competencies, products and processes by applying and following international standards related to our work. We aim to be the leader of our country in the automotive electronics and the partner of our customers that is expected in the international market.

With our continuous technological investments, we increase our production efficiency and competitive power day by day and use our resources more efficiently. We investigate even the smallest non-conformities seriously and monitor the processes with real-time data. For a continuous customer satisfaction, we assess the changing expectations of our customers and spread them from the top management to the lowest level.

We attach great importance to creating a safe business environment filled with happy employees. We create and encourage continuing education opportunities so that everyone in our organization can become more competent, more knowledgeable, and able to use their skills at the highest level. We encourage innovative and creative ideas.

We are moving with the consciousness that we can develop the success we aim with long-term strategic partnerships with our stakeholders, our customers, and our suppliers in an integrated manner.

In accordance with all these principles and in compliance with laws and regulations; as VLE Electronics, we pledge to all our stakeholders, our customers, our suppliers and our employees, that we are committed to fulfilling our responsibilities with the "CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT" efforts.
